CASH MANAGEMENT ACH USER GUIDE

The Automated Clearing House (ACH) Network

The Automated Clearing House (ACH) is an electronic payment network used by individuals, corporations, business, financial institutions and government entities. ACH transactions include basic entry details such as the individual name, financial institution routing number, account number, amount and effective date for the transaction.

ACH Transactions

ACH lets your client transfer funds to and from their INTL FCStone Financial Inc. account and their bank checking or savings accounts. It can be used to pay for investment transactions, make deposits and transfer funds electronically. ACH transactions will usually settle in one business day as determined by the participating financial institution. Settlement is based upon the effective date and will be available as next day funds. An ACH will not be initiated for same day funds. (Fed Wire Transfers are same day funds)

ACH Process

1. The Client authorizes INTL FCStone Financial Inc. to initiate a transaction with their financial institution.
2. INTL FCStone Financial Inc. compiles the required information about the transaction for the Origination Depository Financial Institution (ODFI).
3. The ODFI receives the transaction information from INTL FCStone Financial Inc. and submits it to the ACH Operator.
4. The ACH Operator will process the transaction information from the submitting ODFI and route it to the Receiving Depository Financial Institutions (RDFI).
5. The RDFI receives the funds and posts the entries to their customer account on the settlement date.

Agreements

ACH transactions between an originator (ODFI) and a receiver (RDFI) must be authorized.

- All clients must complete an Authorization Agreement.
- A voided check must be submitted with the Authorization Agreement (Deposit Slips for Checking Accounts will not be accepted). Checks or Deposit slips that cover the authorization agreement will not be processed.
- The Name and Address on the voided check must match the Name and Address of record on the clients brokerage account in order to establish the ACH.
- No Third Party ACH payments will be processed.
- ACH Client Authorization Agreements should be e-mailed to Cash Management at CL-cashmanagement@intlfcstone.com.
- Please allow 1 to 2 business days from receipt of authorization agreement before initiating electronic transfers.
- Verbal authorization is required for On-Demand ACH transfers. The requester, on behalf of the client, may send an email to Cash Management CL-cashmanagement@intlfcstone.com to initiate the transfer. If multiple Authorization Agreements are setup for an account, please indicate the bank account for transfer.
- There are no fees charged for ACH transactions.
- All inquiries should be sent by e-mail to CL-cashmanagement@intlfcstone.com or by calling the Cash Management Help Line at 205.414.7297.
